black on white reflections of words, these shadows of our life
are here forever captured vividly poplars grow slim by macmurray hall . . .

. . . and the way to the dining hall at noon hour is a way of sun and shadow . . .

to the memory of our beloved friend, Jane Areson MacMurray, we dedicate this book. With her husband, Senator MacMurray, she was an infallible benefactress of the college. The warmth of her kindliness still surrounds us here. During her life she had an indomitable faith in humanity, a trust that we will never betray. Whatever we may do that is fine, whatever we may do that is honorable, will be the more worthy because of her faith in us.

PRESIDENT McCLELLAND

During the thirteen years that President Clarence P. McClelland has guided MacMurray College, his patient understanding and geniality have made him well loved on the campus. He and his wife, Mrs. McClelland, are together in their selfless interest and ambitions for the future of the college.

DEAN ROMA N. HAWKINS

Since 1931, when she accepted the position of Dean of MacMurray College, Dean Roma N. Hawkins has with dignity and understanding filled her place on the college campus and made her gracious influence felt. This year Mrs. Hawkins became a member of Delta Kappa Gamma, honor fraternity in education for women. She presided over the annual conference of the Illinois Association of Deans of Women last fall, and attended the national convention of Deans of Women in February.

DEAN MARY E. BAIRD

As she ends her first year as Freshman Dean at Mac-Murray College, Dean Mary E. Baird has proved herself a sympathetic and broad-minded counsellor for entering students. Miss Baird came to the college from the Theodore Roosevelt High School of Des Moines, Iowa, and her educational experience has included seven years of teaching in Egypt. Through personal influence and her freshman fundamentals course, she has given the freshmen stabilizing guidance in their first year.

THE FACULTY

Our faculty members are busy people. After teaching of classes is over, there are often Faculty meetings where problems are met and plans made.

After dinner coffees give time for lighter talk and relaxation.

Then there is the annual faculty party where we find that our professors can dance, act, and sing, as well as poke fun at the students. The hit of this year's party was the stirring "mellerdrammer" "Curse you, Jack Dalton."

First Row: Miss Watson and the "Bug"; "Miss Crum speaking;" Our registrar, Mr. Metcalf; Miss Walter, Jicky, and Mrs. Jicky. Second Row: "This is the way we make a cake"—Miss Tickle; Inspection by Miss Henry; "Want to see the calendar committee?"—Miss Olsan; "Kiddie chards"—Miss Larimore. Third Row: Reverend Blair at lecture; Between classes, get a lift—Mr. McAnear; "Strike the scene"—Miss Remley; "Sing high, sing low"—Mrs. Barr Brawn; "I'm a modern young waman!"—Miss Burrows. Fourth Row: Modern dance enthusiast—Miss Mahany; "Ma" Schaeffer gives same painters; Margaret and the "Jewel Sang"—Mr. Cleeland; "Let's read"—Dr. Newton.

MARTHA JUNE MORGAN, CORRESPONDING SECRETARY; BERNADINE JONES, SECRETARY; LILLIAN VESELY, VICE PRESIDENT; EILEEN KITTS, PRESIDENT; MARY JANE BICKEL, TREASURER.

Another class has known Mac-Murray. We are sorry to leave, but will take many memories of the past year—the Senior Ball, friends at teas, the dignity of the Senior Dinner, those days of comprehensive exams and Senior Theses, and finally—our sheepskins. These, we accept as a reward for having met her requirements and as a challenge to worthily represent her.

CLASS OF 1938

MARY BROWNING, BETTY BROWN, BLANCHE SMITH,
MARJORIE McCONNELL

CAP AND GOWN

In a traditional ceremony in front of Main Hall following last chapel, May, 1937, Betty Brown, Mary Browning, Blanche Smith and Marjorie McConnell were singled out as Cap and Gowners of 1938.

Each of the 1937 members chose her successor from the juniors assembled below the steps and placed the Cap and Gown pin over her heart.

Mary, president of Student Government association; Betty, editor of the "Greetings"; Blanche, vice-president of the S.G.A.; and Marjorie, president of the Y.W.C.A. were chosen as outstanding in scholarship, in extra-curricular activities and in their expression of college spirit and loyalty.

SENIOR BALL

November 6 brought the event for which juniors and seniors had been saving their best boy friends and their new formals — the Senior Ball. Doris Overbey, Ball Chairman, and her committees had worked hard to make it a success—and we weren't disappointed.

Looking back, the juniors recalled all the nice things about the Ball — clever programs, smooth dancing to Chuck Cartwright's music, coffee dances, the thrill of the Grand March, with Miriam Grove as Queen. The entertainment was fun too — Hawaiian songs sung by Sylvianne Li, and harmony by that well-known soph quartet — Jetty Preminger, Max Miller, Alice Spillman, Betty Johnson. Midnight found us all tired — but wasn't it worth it?

IN APPRECIATION

TO

Miss Nellie A. Knopf and the students of the art department whose work and support have helped us greatly in presenting to you this year's Illiwoco.

Miss Mable Walter for her untiring help and advice during the school year and her willingness to back us in all we did.

The individual members of the class of '39 for they have supported this Illiwoco with unfailing enthusiasm and energy.

JO ERICKSON, TREASURER; HILDA MAHNKE, SECRETARY; DR. WALTER, ADVISER; HELEN WEBB, PRESIDENT; JEAN DAVISON, VICE PRESIDENT.

First Junior class to live in Jane Hall, first to attain a membership of one hundred, sponsors of truly original projects, such as selling old newspapers and donating the proceeds to the library fund; and giving an old-fashioned barn dance — the 39'ers are a loyal, all-around crowd, possessed of an admirable unity, and beloved by the entire school.

HELEN WEBB RECEIVES CONLEE-KENT CUP

Each year at Junior recognition the Conlee-Kent Memorial cup is presented to the junior who has, in her sophomore year, best exemplified the college motto. This year, Helen Webb, class president, was chosen most representative of MacMurray ideals of "Knowledge, Faith, and Service."

In her three years here, Helen has shown herself to be an all-around MacMurrayite. She has proved a capable class officer, has served on S.G.A. and Y.W.C.A. boards, and has maintained consistently high scholastic standing. Helen's loyalty and charm make her highly deserving of the award.

JUNIOR CLASS ENTERTAINS AT ROSE PROM

The calendar said "January 15," but the scene in the social room said "June," for the occasion was the juniors' "Rose Prom." Plans for the event were secret; who was the "Rose Princess?" Everyone was wondering, but not until the day of the dance was she revealed to be Marian Hyrup, pretty and popular junior.

Prom-goers were reminded of "June in January" when Marian and Grace Marquardt, Prom Chairman, with their escorts, led the Grand March beneath rose-covered arches. Later, juniors and seniors danced to the care-free notes of Johnny Courtney's orchestra, or enjoyed coffee dances, entertained by the talented freshmen, with Johnny Baker as an accomplished mistress of ceremonies.

The dance over, we reluctantly returned to January, but we laid carefully away in our memory books, with the blue and white programs, the gay and colorful Rose Prom.

SEATED: MARY BUTLER, TREASURER; JETALINE PREMINGER, PRESIDENT; JULIE D'ARCY, CORRESPONDING SECRETARY.
STANDING: MARION HARRISS, SECRETARY; MISS TEAGUE, ADVISER; VIRGINIA GIESEKE, VICE PRESIDENT.

The second year finds us working hard on a Post Card Project, and we appreciate the keen interest shown for our campus views. It's true that the sympathy, the encouragement, and the willingness of our sponsor, Miss Teague, have lightened all of our efforts. Some of our ideas have altered, but our loud and lusty spirit still glows—remember our serenades and bonfires? Singing Sophomores we are!

When We Learn Together

MANY ATTEND DEDICATION OF NEW DORM

With the dedication on October 31, 1937, of the new residence hall, named Ann Rutledge hall, MacMurray College reached a new height in its development.

Judge Florence E. Allen of the United States Circuit Court of Appeals was the principal speaker, and Bishop H. Lester Smith of Cincinnati gave the first address. Greetings from the Illinois College Federation, the Methodist church and the state government were brought by delegates to the dedication.

Held on the wide, elm-bordered lawn before Ann Rutledge hall, the dedication ceremonies were attended by over 2,000 people. Through the generosity of Senator James E. MacMurray and of his late wife, Jane Areson MacMurray, Rutledge hall is at its completion one of the finest dormitories in America. It was built to correspond with the Georgian style of architecture used throughout the college at a cost of over 200,000 dollars.

DELEGATES FROM FAR AND NEAR BRING GREETINGS

HAMPDEN AND MILDNER APPEAR IN SERIES

WALTER HAMPDEN,
VETERAN OF THE STAGE

POLDI MILDNER, PIANO VIRTUOSO

A part of every MacMurray girl's education is her opportunity to hear outstanding musicians and artists in the wide variety of interest offered by our Artist and Lecture Series.

First of the lecturers this year was Walter Hampden, whose reminiscences and readings we enjoyed very much. Two days later we heard Paul Stassevitch, violinist, and, in November, Arthur Compton, noted scientist, relating science to other aspects of modern life.

The latter months were crowded with events—the brilliant playing of Poldi Mildner, young pianist, the vivid picture of Spain given us by John Langdon-Davies, and Harry Hansen's comments on American literature. In April we heard the Pessl, Blaisdell, and Essex Trio of antique musical instruments, and on May 2, the last of our series, the deep, rich contralto of Marian Anderson.

CHAPEL TALKS STRESS FOREIGN PROBLEMS

The one-hour chapel services on Tuesdays this year have made it possible to have outstanding speakers often throughout the year. Subjects discussed in these chapel periods have been varied to suit the interests of every type of listener. The speakers heard this year included ministers, professional men, and experts on national and international problems.

We gained inspiration and material for thought from the addresses of such speakers as Dr. John Thomas, whose topic was "Learn to Do Well," and R. Allan Stephens, Springfield lawyer, who, by giving examples of many who have turned defeat into victory, urged us to do the same in our lives. Mr. Charles F. Eichenauer, editor of the Quincy Herald-Whig, asked us to use our knowledge and experiences in college life to create "New Horizons for Inquiring Minds."

In the field of education, Dr. Harry C. McKown, with wit and common sense, challenged us with his question: "You're a College Student—So What?" He pictured the personality well-rounded by college, developed socially, spiritually, and intellectually.

One of the most difficult problems confronting our country today is that of economic insecurity, and the means for remedying it. Three phases of the problem were presented by chapel speakers here this year. Dr. Rufus C. Rhorem spoke on health insurance and various ways of obtaining it. His subject was "How to Pay for Health." Dr. Rupert B. Vance, research professor in the problems of the Southern tenant farmer, presented the situation of the "Farmer without Land." Finally, Maxwell S. Stewart, noted economist and associate editor of The Nation, discussed the question of unemployment and old age insurance.

International affairs were the subjects of talks by three chapel speakers. Miss Elizabeth P. MacCullum, Canadian League of Nations official, spoke on the various aspects of the Jewish problem. Dr. David Bryn-Jones gave us a clear, concise summary of the present serious situation in Europe. Dr. No-Young Park, authority on Far Eastern affairs, presented to us his views on the Chinese-Japanese conflict and its possible relation to the United States and Europe. Dr. Park is no stranger to MacMurray as he spoke here at the Economic Institute several years ago.

The chapel speakers this year took the place of the Institute on world affairs that is usually held at MacMurray in the spring. The Institute last year dealt with religious problems.

DEBATE TEAM TAKES EASTERN TRIP

DEBATERS, AS THEY LEAVE FOR A TRIP, SMILE FOR THE CAMERA

The debaters, coached by Mr. Gibson, debated on the question, Resolved: That the National Labor Relations Board be empowered to enforce compulsory arbitration of all industrial disputes. Helen Webb, Mary Butler, Barbara Butler, and Jane Ellen Jones composed the affirmative team; Ingrid Bergstrom, Doris Michael, Sally McDonald, and Ruth Sanderson, the negative.

Non-decision debates were held with Blackburn, Principia, Olivet, Monmouth, Knox, and Bradley. Our squad attended a pre-season tournament and March 25, the state tournament at Normal.

February 16, upholding the negative of the question, Resolved: That the sit-down strike is a just weapon in the hands of organized labor, the team won a decision over debaters from two Canadian universities.

The crowning event of the year came in April when, from the 10th to the 20th, the team debated various Eastern colleges.

SCHOOL YEAR REVIEWED IN PAGEANT

Dad's Day has a double reason for being one of the most important events on the calendar: besides being the day when we entertain our dads, it marks the beginning of spring vacation.

The day begins with the annual water pageant in the morning. This year the pageant was a review of some of the events of a year at MacMurray. The swimmers pictured a chapel service, the Ball and Prom, a spread, and the Junior Barn Dance.

At 11:00 the dads held their meeting, and at 12:30 we all flocked to the dining hall for dinner.

Everyone met in the gym again at 2:00 to see the one-act plays given by the Players' Guild. Hardly had the curtain fallen on the first, The No 'Count Boy, when it rose again to reveal a backstage version of the play. The second play, The Family Man, was a domestic comedy. A perfect day's ending came at 4:00—vacation and home!

GUILD PROVES VERSATILITY

The studies of Rose Marie Mohrdieck, one as a laughing gypsy, one as a tragic immigrant woman, one as a crystal gazer; of Jean Davison as the woman of the streets; and of Grace Marquardt as the imp, Puck are an excellent illustration of the talent in characterization and emotional study found in the Players' Guild. The Guild has, too, proved its versatility this year—producing anything from stage hands to directors. As their first production last fall they gave Dickens' "Cricket on the Hearth." Others during the year included three clever one-act plays on Dad's Day, and George Eliot's "The Spanish Gypsy," given for commencement. They are now using a new system, based on the old English guild system. New members enter as apprentices, then become journeymen, and finally, masters. At the spring banquet the outstanding masters in the acting field are given the honorary degree of "Bat," and in stagecraft, that of "Workman." A delightful Guild custom is the May Day Breakfast featuring radish sandwiches in Lilac Court.

Slowly the house lights dim, the mellow voice of the Story-teller begins, the curtains part, and with a delighted "Oh" from an eager audience, "The Cricket on the Hearth" has begun. This play so appropriate to the spirit of Christmas was presented December tenth in the gym by the Players' Guild. Dickens lived again indeed in the charming little kitchen and the dilapidated toy shop; and the merry chirp of the cricket found its way into every heart!

BROADCASTS HIGHLIGHT CHOIR YEAR

VIRGINIA KILLENE
President

Besides chapel these blackrobed songsters' main performances of the year are in the Thanksgiving, Christmas and Easter Vespers. Contrary to custom, they donned formals for their spring recital; their music also was of a lighter vein. Their breadth of music appreciation is further shown by their successful "Choir Hop," one of the first all-school dances of the year. Highlights in their activities are their participation in Monticello College's Bach Symposium and their broadcasts over KMOX in St. Louis, and WTAD in Quincy. Trips to nearby cities, college, church, and club programs keep them busy.

The Editorial Staff edits the weekly College newspaper which brings to the students news of campus activities, student ideas, dances, humor—everything! Achievements are: paper weekly instead of only every two weeks; regular beats for reporters rather than mere assignments linking reporter and beats inconsistently; 16-page Dedication issue, 8-page Christmas issue, 6-page issues on alternate weeks. New features are Candleholder, Professor Pushbuggy, Church Notes, campus caricatures. The Editorial Staff was entertained by the Business Staff at a banquet and theatre party. They're the sponsors of the annual spring Literary Contest. "Newshounds" and "feature hounds"—they've marvelous "noses for news."

Every newspaper has its financial problems, but those of the Greetings are very efficiently handled by the business staff, which does everything from collecting ads and paying bills to managing the staff entertainments. The business staff this year boosts forty Jacksonville advertisers, having sold three times as many ads as have been bought during previous years. This puts the Greetings on a sound financial basis. In addition to this, the staff has sponsored ads for two special editions, at Christmas and for the Dedication of Ann Rutledge Hall.

An exchange system is maintained, whereby the Greetings exchanges issues with twenty-five other colleges from the west coast to the east including all Illinois colleges.

FUTURE SOCIETY HOSTESSES

The Home Economics Club is outstanding in putting what it learns into practice. The aims of the club are to guide the broadening of the students' knowledge in the wide-spread field of Home Economics. The events scheduled for the year included a style show, April 11, sponsored by the clothing department and a waffle supper, March 18, sponsored by the foods department. The March and April meetings gave to the members an opportunity to become better acquainted with the personalities of pioneer and contemporary home economists. The foreign element of the program was represented by talks on "Family Life and the Pharoahs" and "Consumers Cooperatives as Observed in Europe." The element representing our country was an illustrated lecture on Spode china and earthenware.

EDITORS OF 1939 ILLIWOCO

To many, early in the school year the Illiwoco meant only one thing: Herbie, his candid camera, with the faithful photographer editor always at his heels. Later the work gained an air of mystery for behind a closed door, plainly marked "Stay Out" could be seen a group of harassed girls, some chewing pencils, some tearing hair, but all searching for an idea. When the inspiration had finally been born, the work began.

THEY MEET ILLIWOCO BILLS

If the Junior Barn Dance which loomed over our horizon early in January this year be a fair example of their originality, the Illiwooco Business Staff may freely boast such a quality. Corn stalks, wagon wheels, and milk cans well mixed to the tune of "Turkey in the Straw" had a real success. And did we MacMurray "gals" turn out! The staff also claim a remarkable increase in gray hairs recorded this past year—all due, they solemnly maintain, to their unwavering campaign upon prospective advertisers and subscribers. In addition to the girls who were members of the business staff, others who helped in the advertisement and subscription campaign were Frances Morgan, Jean Nolt-ing, Marcella Hoover, Betty Cooley, and Marie Dickman.

International Relations Club is a campus organization for those interested in important world subjects and events. Its members meet each month, with their faculty sponsor, Dr. McAnear, to listen to speakers on topics of international interest or to discuss such topics among themselves.

The best known function of I. R. C. is the task of keeping the bulletin board up-to-date with important daily news events. The club also presents books which are given them by the Carnegie Foundation to the college library.

This year I. R. C. took charge of the banquet held here during the Peace Conference of February 25-27. The organization also sent delegates this spring to the I. R. C. convention in Kalamazoo, Michigan.

The Indiana Club, which has been a pioneer of its kind on our campus, was organized in its present form in the summer of 1936. Its principal purpose is to help the new students coming from Indiana to get acquainted with each other and the school. In this way it has been one of the factors in increasing enrollment from Indiana. A high point of the club's activity is an all state picnic which is held at Turkey Run State Park during summer vacation each year—including MacMurray girls, past, present, and future. Indianapolis alumnae, inviting girls from all over the state, give a tea during the Christmas vacation. This club also provides all the Indianians with many a social "get-together" for the winter terms.

STUDENTS OF CHILD EDUCATION

The Kindergarten Club, made up of Kindergarten majors has been reorganized and is now a member of the National Childhood Education Association. The monthly meetings are characterized by their educational value, usually featuring a guest speaker who is a specialist in some phase of childhood education as art, health, or story-telling. Every one remembers the Christmas Bazaar with its floppy yarn poodles, gingham dogs, and calico cats which the girls made themselves. Then the relaxation of a grand "kid party," with the club members forgetting their dignity and giving "A Day at the Kindergarten" for their guests. In the spring a program by the children was arranged; among other clever numbers there appeared the Kindergarten Rhythm Band.

MADRIGAL PRESENTS CONCERTS

The fundamental aim of the Madrigal club is to sing good music well. The organization is made up of such singers as were able to pass the qualification test.

Their program this year called for the presentation of two concerts, one in collaboration with the College Orchestra. Hitherto, the group has presented only one concert a year.

The regular spring concert included a group of pieces of the classical era, two modern songs of the late Gustav Holst, and a group of Russian songs. At the second concert, the group presented the Cantata "Stabat Mater" by Pergolesi and Clokey's "Nights."

The organization, which numbers approximately seventy, also aided in the presentation of Easter Vespers April 10.

The big project of the P. E. Club this year has been the purchase of a cabin from the Kiwanis Club in the fall, which is now open to the whole student body. During Thanksgiving the cabin was decorated inside by the majors and new doors were built, making a living room of the space in front of the open fireplace. Pingpong equipment, puzzles, games, piano, victrola, magazines, and the fireplace provide unlimited opportunities for a party. It is a center for ice-skating and boating parties, and a destination for hikers. The P. E. majors gave a tea in Jane Hall lounge for the vice-president of The National Sorority for P. E. Majors, and sponsored the Federal Theatre play, "Criminal at Large." You'll find them most active in A. A. and sports.

CITY, COUNTY, AND STATE ARE REPRESENTED IN THE NEW ST. LOUIS CLUB

THEY'RE FROM MISSOURI

The St. Louis Club was organized this year for the purpose of bringing together the girls from St. Louis, from St. Louis County, and from Missouri, in order that they might get better acquainted and make their collective presence felt on the campus. The present active membership numbers some forty girls, and will be kept at a limited number.

The club is run on the same lines as a sorority, with rushing during vacations and in the summer.

Members of the organization met at the Park Plaza Hotel in St. Louis for a luncheon during the Christmas holidays. More parties have been planned for the spring and summer months. Next year when it is fully organized, the club intends to do many interesting and exciting things.

From athletics or societies to Scribblers and Choir, every bit of "Mac" News is sent to the home newspapers to keep local people informed of "Mac" whims and happenings. Write-ups on special activities and important visitors are sent to the large newspapers of adjacent cities. The combined interest of Press members, as of all true reporters, flourish in every field. This year is a memorable one in the history of student government at MacMurray as it marks the twenty-fifth anniversary of government by the students. Several changes have been adopted by the S. G. A. this year. A smaller board in each dormitory, composed of the house president and corridor chairman, serves to try minor cases, thus relieving the regular board of this duty. The privilege of using radios in rooms and of having later hours may be attributed to the Student Government board of this year.

Mary Browning attended the annual N. S. F. A. convention held at Albuquerque, New Mexico, during the Christmas holidays. The subject of the convention was "The Role of Student Government in Higher Education."

SCRIBBLERS CONTRIBUTE TO SCHOOL PAPER

MARGARET CAIN

With a membership limited to eighteen the Scribblers' Club forms a compact group which meets to read and to discuss, to write and to criticize. Their manuscript meetings are conducted each month by a different member acting as a critic. Informality keynotes their gatherings, and they keep archives of all the writings submitted in the Club. At their open meeting in April, the Scribblers held forth with a literary program of their own creation. Scribbler Christmas cards, with a drawing of some part of the college and a verse by one of the members, are a yearly project which occupies all their time in December and balances their books. "Scribbblings," a regular feature of the Greetings, contains prose or verse selected from the writings of each member.

The Tironian club is made up of those who are taking one or more courses in the business department. The club meets on the first Wednesday of each month with Miss Annabel Crum as its adviser. Usually there is an outside speaker, but occasionally a program is planned and given by the club members who are interested in varied phases of modern business.

In addition to its regular monthly meetings, the club meets several times during the year for social reasons. A coffee is held each October at which the new members are welcomed into the group. Also there is an annual Christmas party, a formal banquet in April, and a picnic in May. This year the Tironians were hosts to the members of the Home Economics Club whom they entertain every other year.

The Town Girls' Club writes this year into its history as the date of its formal organization. Although, as an informal group, the organization is not new on the campus, it was not until this year that its members formally adopted a constitution. This club has as its chief purpose provision of social organization, and also an inviting room for study and recreation; as the campus headquarters for Jacksonville students. Their biggest project, this year, has been the improvement of this room . . . including refurnishing it with attractive maple lounging divan and chairs given by Mrs. McClelland, besides improving their lighting for study. As a fitting climax to their year of activity, early this spring they sponsored a successful dance on the campus.

Y. W. C. A. HAS ACTIVE YEAR

The Y. W. C. A. is noted for its various activities throughout the school year. Beginning with Recognition and the grand "Little Sister" party in the fall, its program was carried out with much enthusiasm. During the Christmas season, the members were busy with the annual party for underprivileged children, the customary caroling, and then the Oriental Bazaar which was so successful that it was repeated the next week. Later in the year, the Y. W. C. A. sponsored the Day of Prayer and the always-popular Heart Sister Week, winding up the functions with the May Day Breakfast. Interest in the annual Y. W. C. This eliminates a highly specialized type of game, makes for a true spirit of sportsmanship, and places emphasis on individual participation.

SWIMMING

In a close, exciting encounter, Navy sank the Army by a score of 35-31 at the first swimming meet of the year held on December 16.

Navy won honors in the front and back crawl and in the relay race. Army was the winner in the tandem, diving and bath challenges. Starving for the Navy were: Bergstrom, Spink, Klupping, Gustafson and Vanderpaal. Outstanding Army swimmers were: Mullins, Coates, Strawbridge, and King.

On Dad's Day, April 13, a clever water pageant based on a skit featuring all-school activities, was presented. Those taking speaking parts were: R. Singleton, D. Klupping, R. M. Mohrdieck, J. E. Mary Frye, Jane Ann Edmunds and Victoria Seymaur were in charge.

RIDING

A rhythmical clop, clop-clop down the bridle path to Nichols Park, a group of smartly dressed girls sitting well on handsome horses, snatches of gay conversation—and the physical education class in riding, under the supervision of Miss Watson, is off for its bi-weekly canter. About fifty students have taken horseback riding this year, since the new stable was built a block south of "Ann Rutledge" Hall.

Mr. T. L. Hughes and Mr. Ivan Gray manage the stable, and often give their pupils a chance to ride the show horses, "Flashing By" and "Sweetheart on Parade." Riding is also offered for A.A. credit, eight rides being equivalent to a season's credit.

Wintery blasts don't chill the enthusiasms of MacMurray equestrians: protected by the warmest of riding habits, they blithely trot through the cold, rain, sleet or snow!

THE RIDERS HERE ARE VICTORIA SEYMOUR, ELEANOR MAHON, DOROTHY KLUPPING, JANE ANN EDMUNDS, MARY FRYE, AND ISABEL STOOPS

The modern dance classes in physical education under Miss Mahany have two divisions—beginning and intermediate. The beginners learn the fundamentals and rhythms and practice exercises in directions and lines. The intermediate class does some textbook work, studying the history of the modern dance and its present trends. On November 20, those interested traveled to Springfield to see the famous Joos Ballet troupe perform. February 12 a group went down to Monticello college in Godfrey, Illinois to attend a modern dance symposium. Hanya Holm, well-known exponent of modern dance gave valuable instruction to the entire assembly. After dinner, Miss Holm's troupe presented a recital.

For the more advanced students there is a modern dance club which meets with Miss Mahany every Wednesday evening to study form, design and rhythm patterns, and to interpret the American dance. They devote their workout periods to studying advanced techniques and to the development of the structure of the dance. To be eligible for the club, a student must have had at least one semester of modern dance. The charter members are Jane Ann Edmunds, '38 and Dorothy Klupping, '39. Try-outs were held at the beginning of the first semester and seven new members were admitted: Mary Frye, Jean Davison, Jetaline Preninger, Dorothy Varnum, Nina Kaelin, Betty Stockman and Dora Krug. Again in March after try-outs, seven more members were taken in: Ruth Lee, Constance Sauter, Betty Johnson, Ingrid Bergstrom, Sally MacDonald, Mary Sue Wootton and Rachel Wise. Marguerite Clarke is the pianist. A small group went to St. Louis on April 4 to see Martha Graham, most famous of all American modern dancers, accompanied by the composer, Louis Horst.

INDIVIDUAL SPORTS

AIM HIGH, YOUNG LADIES, AIM HIGH!

Few sports are as valuable to a girl after she graduates as those which do not require teamwork. At MacMurray, the individual sports — archery, bowling, hiking, badminton and table tennis — are as enthusiastically received as the team games. Archery is taught in physical education classes and may also be used for A. A. credit. Carol Knapp and Ruth Singleton, expert "archers" represented the college at the Normal Sports Day early last fall.

Bowling has been more popular this year than ever before. Students use commercial alleys in town. The majority of the bowlers are those enrolled in recreational sports classes, although there are a number of others interested. These classes also include instruction and practice in badminton, table tennis and dart baseball. These games as well as shuffle board are available in the gym during free hours and in the evenings. Hiking is a year-'round activity. Groups of three or more girls may take four five-mile hikes for one season's A. A. credit. Girls usually utilize free Sunday mornings to tramp along the road "afoot and light-hearted."

BASEBALL

Baseball is a major team sport with a regular Army-Navy game which was won last year by the Navy. The game this year is scheduled for June 2. Last year's tournament was won by the class of '39.

VOLLEYBALL

Volleyball season ended just before spring vacation. There is no Army-Navy competition; the juniors won the tourney for the second time.

HOCKEY

Hockey—the most popular sport at MacMurray! From the first days of school until Thanksgiving, this fast-moving game dominates our athletic program. This year, after the tournament ended with all three upper classes in a tie for first place, the following girls were selected to play for the Army and Navy in the annual game.

Army: Jane Anne Edmunds, captain; M. Coates, V. Cox, J. D'Arcy, M. Frye, M. Morgan, M. Morris, J. Ryan, V. Seymour, G. Yontz, and E. Kitts.

Navy: Dorothy Klupping, captain; I. Bergstrom, A. Catterall, J. Causey, M. Dickman, C. Gates, J. Gustafson, E. Irwin, M. Mahan, B. Parkman, R. Spink and C. Shands

Contrary to tradition, the Army-Navy game, instead of being played on Thanksgiving day, took place the Saturday before. This was necessitated by the four-day Thanksgiving recess. Before the game began, the Army players, led by a realistic "Spirit of '76" trio equipped with flag, fife and drum, marched out from Ann Rutledge Hall. The usual custom of parading the Army mule and Navy goat was observed. The field was covered with snow as the teams lined up for the first bully. From the moment the starting whistle blew, remarkably brilliant, fair and speedy playing was displayed by both sides. The Juniors and Freshmen were too strong for their adversaries; however, and the final score was 5-0 in the Navy's favor.

A CLOSE MOMENT IN THE ARMY-NAVY GAME

THESE VARSITY PLAYERS ARE: GATES, COATES, FRYE, D'ARCY, MULLINS, BERGSTROM, EDMUNDS, KLUPPING, PARKMAN, MORGAN, SEYMOUR.

This year's hockey tournament ended in an unusual three-way tie among the Seniors, Juniors and Sophomores. Because of the excellent, clean playing exhibited by all the participants, the task of selecting the Varsity was a difficult one. The team captains, student coaches and members of the A. A. board finally announced the following as outstanding players worthy of the honor:

Mary Frye, Jane Ann Edmunds, Victoria Seymour,

The scores for the class games were:

Senior, 2	Sophomores, 2
Juniors, 5	Freshmen, 0
Seniors, 1	Juniors, 1
Sophomores, 3	Freshmen, 0
Seniors, 5	Freshmen, 1
Juniors, 3	Sophomores, 3

BASKETBALL

The sophomores won this year's basketball tournament for the second time, having been champions last year when they were freshmen. So outstanding were they that five of their players were placed on the Varsity as compared with one representative from each of the other classes. The fact that six sophs were on the Army team proved to be a distinct advantage: Army sank the Navy 39-16 in the annual game, March 7.

From the beginning of the tourney, the sophomores held the upper hand. Their quick, accurate shooting, featuring Mahon's brilliant long shots, Miller's deadly over-head angle baskets, Coates' spectacular running-in for short under-the-basket shots, combined with Strawbridge's cool assurance from any place on the floor, soon piled up the points against their opponents. Any chance their rivals did get at their own basket was soon broken up by the smooth team play of the sophomore guards. All of the class games were exciting and relatively free from fouls. One of the closest games was between the seniors and juniors, ending with the juniors ahead, 24-23. Klupping scored the winning point on a free throw. One of the most ballyhooed encounters was the one between the sophomores and freshmen. The former had won both games, the frosh had won one and tied one. This meant, then, that if they defeated the sophs, they would be the champions. Although the youngsters went down by a score of 35-15, they played a brilliant game and didn't give up until the last whistle blew. In the senior-freshman game, both teams ran wild during all four quarters. The final score was 12-12.

The Army was composed of seniors and sophomores: forwards—Mariella Coates, '40, Eleanor Mahon, '40, Lucy Strawbridge, '40, Mary Frye, '38 (sub.); guards—Jean Ryan, '38, Marge Viner, '40; Rita Mullins, '40, Margaret Morris, '40 (sub.)

The Navy team, consisted of juniors and freshmen: forwards—Dorothy Klupping, '39, Vivian Vanderpool, '41, Gwyneth Whiteman, '41, Jane Gustafson, '39 (sub.); guards—Carol Gates, '41, Jean Gardner, '41, Betty Coolidge, '41, Juanita Fordyce, '39 (sub.).

The Varsity, selected from the best players on the Army and Navy was Coates, Strawbridge, Mahon, Viner, Mullins, Ryan, Gates, and Klupping.

Class standings for the tournament are:

	won	lost	tie	points		won	lost	tie	points
Sophomores	3	0	0	139	Juniors	1	2	0	76
Freshmen	1	1	1	55	Seniors	0	2	1	48

TENNIS

Tennis, always a popular sport at MacMurray, became even more popular when the four new concrete courts just southeast of Ann Rutledge Hall were finished this fall. From the first warm autumn days at the opening of school until it is too cold to play—even in ski pants; and from the first hint of spring until commencement, the courts are filled with enthusiastic lovers of the game.

On October 23, representatives were sent from MacMurray to the intercollegiate sports day at Normal, Illinois. To select the players, an elimination tournament was held with seventeen girls participating. Betty Johnson, '40, defeated Juanita Fordyce, '39, for the championship—the second time she has won the right to enter the singles at Normal. Juanita Fordyce, and Janet Rosain, '41, entered the doubles contest.

Besides tournament play, several physical education classes for beginning, intermediate and advanced students are offered, under Miss Mahany and Miss Walter. These classes learn the fundamentals of serving, various standard strokes and general rules of the game. Members are required to spend two hours a week on the courts.

SEEN THROUGH THE BACKSTOP

OFFICERS ARE: FRYE, PRESIDENT; EDMUNDS, VICE-PRESIDENT; MOYER, SECRETARY; DAVIS, TREASURER; MISS WATSON, ADVISER.

The persannel of the board includes the following spart managers: Strawbridge, hackey, baseball; Coates, tennis, recreational sparts; Marris, swimming, basketball; Ryan, hiking, riding; Klupping, val-leyball, archery. Class representatives: Sermaur, senior; Spink, juniar; Mullins, saphomore; Parkman, freshman.

A. A. BOARD

The A. A. board, composed of the A. A. officers, sport managers, and class representatives, holds the responsibility of managing seasonal inter-class tournaments, traditional entertainments such as Dad's Day and May Day, and the annual social affairs which include the all-school picnic and the Hallowe'en party. The board this year has introduced several innovations. Its new organized recreational program gives credit for recreational sports which have been popular on the campus, but which have not, until now, been accept-able for athletic credit. The lengthening of volleyball and swimming seasons is another of this year's changes. In addition to this, tournaments are now arranged so that every girl who tries out for a team has an opportunity to play in competitive games.

Early this year, the board voted to appropriate a sum of money to the P. E. cabin, making it open to use by all students free of charge.

Rita Mullins was in charge of the annual Hallowe'en party this year. Beverly Welsh manages A. A. publicity. Jane Ann Edmunds is responsible for monthly chapel meet-ings and presentations of athletic awards.

MAY QUEEN

Mary Angeline Pascoe

Mary Pascoe, charming blonde May Queen, leads her court of equally lovely attendants to their places of honor, and another May Day, with its pageantry, music and dancing, begins. This year's skit was cleverly worked out from the old folk tale, "The Golden Goose," the story of the unsmiling princess and the efforts made to make her laugh. The Y. W. Breakfast, the banquet, the pageant, the May Day Dance, made it a memorable day for our mothers, thanks to Mary Jane Bickel, chairman, and her hard-working committees. The queen's court consisted of Eileen Kitts, maid-of-honor; Virginia Wingett, Myrle Walter, Mary Jane Bickel, Marjorie McConnell, Doris Overbey, and Mary Browning.

Mary Frye has this year become, unofficially, perhaps, the holder of Lambda's plaque for distinguished service as the "Chief Chef of Chili Suppers." A pre-vacation spread was held just before Christmas in the society hall, whose three-year redecoration plan was completed recently. The society held a Thanksgiving dinner-dance at the Dunlap, a coffee in March for the honorary members, a spring banquet, and the first open-meeting, this year. At two regular meetings, which presented as program variety, "Swing," discussed by Mr. Cleeland and "Egypt," with Miss Baird, Lambda was hostess to other societies.

THETA SIGMA SOCIETY

With Peggy Sullivan and Ingrid Bergstrom the ring leaders, the Theta's unique circus theme of Rush Week increased her membership from twenty-four to forty-one. These many sided Thetas actually painted the hall themselves, supervised by Beverly Welsh, chairman of the re-decoration project. In the usual Christmas pre-vacation rush, MacMurray girls were aided by the "Theta Employment Bureau", the latter hiring out for any duty from wrapping packages to cleaning rooms. Every year the Rummage Sale is an important feature in the balancing of the budget.

PHI NU'S WEEKLY PROGRAMS ARE VARIED AND OF INTEREST

PHI NU SOCIETY

Philadelphia may have celebrated its tri-centennial with Paul Revere's ride last April, but Phi Nu reenacted the famous episode as one of its rush parties at least six months before, with Mary Jane Dobyns as the hard-riding patriot, by automobile. Perhaps the miniature lanterns given as souvenirs implied Phi Nu's motto: "Gathering light that we may scatter it." During the year, Phi Nu was hostess for an inter-society tea, annual dinner dance, and a date night. "The Birthday of the Infanta", directed by Grace Marquardt and Jean Davison won for Phi Nu first place in the inter-society play contest.

BELLES LETTRES, THOUGH FOUNDED IN '51, HAS MODERN SPIRIT

BELLES LETTRES SOCIETY

Think of bacon and eggs at Nichols park on a Sunday morning, chili for supper at Wag's, a chartered bus to Springfield to hear Rubinoff. Belles Lettres may have been founded in 1851 before any of the other societies, but it has none of the rheumatic infirmities which usually accompany old age! In November, the alumnae and honorary members were entertained at a tea in the society hall. In the spring, the entire society week-ended at the P. E. cabin on the lake. The versatile members presented "Snow-White" at the open-meeting. Surely no one can deny the appropriateness of the B. L. motto: "Here we prepare for an active life!"

KAPPA SIGMA THETA

Not to be outdone by her sister societies, Kappa Sigma Theta also shines in the social light as well as the more serious side of life at MacMurray. An outstanding event of the year was a February banquet carried out in a Pan-American theme. Phi Kappa Delta society collaborated with the Kappa Sigmas to make this event a gala one. Roasting hot-dogs and toasting marshmallows make this jovial group think of the November picnic at the home of Carol Carruthers. Under the very capable direction of Ruby Siebenmann the "Trysting Place" was presented in the Freshman Inter-society Play Contest.

PHI KAPPA DELTA

Phi Kappa Delta, one of the largest freshmen societies, displayed the enthusiasm of its effervescent members by the large attendance at the meetings. Giving credit where credit is due—such enthusiasm can be well explained by the unique programs planned by their program chairman, Margaret Heineke and presented by the many talented Phi Kappas. Their winning second place in the Freshman Inter-society Play Contest and their later presentation of a second play signify Phi Kappa's active participation in the Dramatic Point System. Balancing this more serious side were the social activities, the Jane Hall formal tea, the popcorn ball Christmas party, and the Travelogue banquet.

"The Intruder" by Maeterlinck, directed by Liddi Rowe and Virginia Billingsley credited the society with the coveted first place award in the Freshman Inter-society Play Contest. Such social events as the teas, the grab-bag Christmas gift party, the Inter-society banquet at the Colonial Inn, the spring picnic, show that the Phi Taus are living up to their motto—"Vim, vigor, and vitality!"

DELTA THETA NU

An exam was defined as a blustery north wind by Delta Theta Nu at her "Winds of MacMurray" spring banquet, held with Phi Tau Epsilon, in March. In addition to the annual banquet, the society planned a rollicking picnic at the P. E. cabin on the lake. The majority of the programs of the society have been "local talent" ones, put on by members of the society. Delta Theta produced "Riders To The Sea" directed by Dorothea Spaulding as its entry in the Freshman Inter-society Play Contest. This ambitious society added several new positions to the list of officers.
